All good things come in threes: ayondo initiates “Social Days” by donating percentage of profits to children’s charities

Frankfurt/London/Madrid 19th December – Financial technology group ayondo will donate a percentage of its profits to three children’s charities this week before Christmas to mark the first year of an initiative called “ayondo Social Days”.

On the 20th, 21st and 22nd of December, ayondo will donate 3% of its profits to ayondo-staff-selected organisations from Germany, the UK, and Spain, the group’s B2C core markets for Social Trading.

ayondo Top Traders, management, staff and partners will also support with donations over the period and the funds raised will be split equally between the charities. Clients are also invited to donate.

The three charities are:

- UK: Great Ormond Street Hospital Charity
- Germany: Kinderlachen
- Spain: Talita

The focus of this year’s Social Days is to support children’s health care initiatives such as hospitals, vital research, and hospices, as well as social projects such as children inclusion campaigns and kindergartens.

ayondo encourages its community to consider joining in donating to one or more of these worthwhile organisations. Your gift can make a huge impact and help a child this holiday season. Thank you for your support.
